

Mathematical Roundabouts

A Puzzle by David Pleacher

Each of the letter-circles below represents a math-related word that can be spelled out by starting at the appropriate letter and moving either clockwise or counter-clockwise around the circle. You may use letters over again, but you may not skip a letter.

